

UNIVERSITÄT
BAYREUTH

FAMILIE IN DER HOCHSCHULE

The University of Bayreuth is a research-oriented university with internationally competitive, interdisciplinary focus areas in research and teaching. The Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences at the University of Bayreuth is currently seeking to appoint a at pay grade W 3 (minimum salary per month: € 6,530.03) to commence on 1st October 2020. This is a permanent civil service position.

Full Professor of Exercise Physiology

The applicant should represent the subject area exercise physiology as a physiologically oriented training science in research and teaching. The focus of his or her work will be on the adaptation of the human body to movement, training, different diets, and environmental conditions.

Involvement in the focus area Food & Health Sciences and interdisciplinary cooperation with the Faculty of Life Sciences: Food, Nutrition and Health, which is currently being established on the new Kulmbach Campus, is expected.

With regard to research, the applicant will stand out due to relevant publications in international journals and the ability to obtain third-party funding. Profound system-physiological knowledge as it relates to sports science as well as a scientific understanding of training are required. Teaching responsibilities include the introductory courses in sports physiology and training science.

The postholder will be expected to contribute to the conceptual planning involved in the ongoing development of the degree programmes Sport, Business & Law (M.Sc. and B.Sc.), Sport Technology (M.Sc.), and the teacher education programmes in Sports.

Requirements for this position (in accordance with Article 7 and Article 10 para 3 BayHSchPG) are a university degree, a doctoral degree, a post-doctoral qualification to teach at a professorial level (Habilitation), and proven excellence in teaching. Evidence of equivalent scholarly achievement as a junior professor or in a non-university environment will also be considered. A further prerequisite is the ability to teach in English. International applicants must be willing and able to teach in the German language in the medium term. Only applicants who are 51 years of age or younger can be hired as civil servants (Article 10 para 3 BayHSchPG).

The University of Bayreuth seeks to increase the proportion of women involved in research and teaching (in accordance with Article 4 para 1 sentence 1 BayHSchG) and therefore particularly welcomes female applicants. All qualifications being equal, severely disabled applicants will be given priority. The University of Bayreuth strives to further increase the diversity of its academic staff. For this reason, scholars who can help make the research and teaching profile of the university more diverse are strongly encouraged to apply. Applicants with children are highly welcome. The University of Bayreuth is a member of the best practice club Family at University, and it offers "dual career support" for career-oriented partners of highly qualified employees. In addition, an extended audit conducted by the German Rectors' Conference (HRK) returned a favourable review for the University of Bayreuth's commitment to internationalization.

Please send your cover letter and supporting documents (CV outlining education and academic career, list of publications, list of courses taught, a description of your research, as well as copies of all diplomas and certificates) to the Dean of the Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences, University of Bayreuth, 95440 Bayreuth by 23 April 2019. Application documents cannot be returned to the applicant, and if unsuccessful, the files will be permanently disposed of in accordance with data protection law. Please also submit an identical copy of your application as a single PDF file (up to 30 MB) to dekanat.kuwi@uni-bayreuth.de.